"Out esteemed contemporary" when used by two Ohio editors carries reservations.

Spring chickens are probably so-called because of the price to which they are able to jump.

With the increase in railroad fares, "there is no place like home" has a literal meaning.

A candidate in Mexico devotes time that a nominee here gives to a speech of acceptance to target practice.

Discouraged bandits should take heart from Mexico's surrender to Villa.

The campaign of the editors may be kept free from mud-slinging because the paste will be handier.

Pedestrians should remember that there are traffic rules for them as well as for automobile drivers.

Why don't they convert the Resolute into a Salt river excursion boat for that brisk November business?

WATCH YOUR—TONGUE

School boys and girls who struggle in their grammar lessons with such terrifying enemies at "attributive complement, predicate adjective, anticipatory verb," an dither equally mystifying specimens of grammar terminology will be glad to learn that, according to a recent writer on the subject, "English grammar, at it is now taught, should be dropped entirely from our schools."

Against the formal teaching of grammar as a "thing of laws, rules ordinances, by-laws and exceptions; an unscientific, illogical, inflexible dictum, which forces children to decline nouns in cases which do not exist, to conjugate verbs in tenses, moods and voices which long since have ceased to be, and to make adjectives agree with nouns when agreement is neither necessary nor possible"—against all his emphasizing of the letter and killing of the spirit the writer makes a strong case.

Perhaps the discarding of mental gymnastics would come as a relief to the teacher no less than to the pupil. Almost every teacher who is at all familiar with the speech habits of school children outside of the class room has come to see the futility of the empty drilling and parrot-like reciting of the grammar hour. It is now admitted on all sides that we have in the past over-emphasized parsing and conjugating and that more recent device for the torture of the school child's mind known as diagramming. This is evidenced by the fact that the teaching of grammar as it was practiced 25 or 30 years ago has been supplanted in a large measure by methods less irksome and more fruitful to both teacher and pupil.

We can not afford to be less diligent in our efforts to correct slovenly speech habits and to preserve the purity and effectiveness of a language in which is written so much of the world's best literature, and which is the most widely used tongue in the world. If it is our intention to preserve the English language, and not merely to pad a school curriculum, it should be impressed upon the pupil that cultural and commercial opportunity depends in a great part on one's knowledge of his mother tongue and on a desire to use this knowledge to the best of his ability. Slovenly speech, the pupil should be made to understand, is as likely to bring the user of it into disrepute as is slovenly appearance in the matter of his clothes. To this end the home can greatly assist the school.

PONZI ARRESTED ON CHARGES OF LARCENY

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—Charles Ponzi "the big bucket millionaire" who claims to have made his millions in operating an international postal reply coupon, formally surrendered himself to federal authorities here today. At 11:15 Captain Armstrong of police headquarters at the request of Attorney General Allen, applied for a warrant for the arrest of Ponzi on the charge of larceny. The warrant will be served on Ponzi immediately. Ponzi was said to be in custody of United States Marshal Duane. Federal authorities refused to make any statement.

But knowing at home is money and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says: "It darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the faded, faded or streaked appearance of gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy."

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance.

FRANCE AND GREAT BRITAIN AT ODDS U. S. WILL NOT TAKE SIDES IN DISPUTE

LLOYD GEORGE FACED WITH THREE CRISES AT ONCE IS WRESTLING WITH THE POLISH PROBLEM

FRENCH MOVE WAS A SURPRISE

WASHINGTON, August 12.—The United States will defer "at the present" from taking sides in the differences between Great Britain and France over Russia it was learned today at the State Department.

WARSAW, August 11 (By way of London, August 12).—Poland must defend itself to the end and spurn any Bolshevik offer of dishonorable peace the Council of Defense declared in a manifesto issued today on the eve of the armistice conference at Minsk.

PARIS, August 12.—Differences between France and Great Britain over interpretation of an agreement reached by Premier Millerand and Premier Lloyd George at Highgate can only prevent the two governments from closer cooperation toward adjustment of the differences according to a resume of the British note to France given out by the foreign office. It was stated that the note was delivered to the Quai d'Orsay by the British Charge d'Affaires this morning. So far as is known this is the first communication received from the British since the announcement was made that France had recognized General Wrangel's anti-Bolshevik government in southern Russia without the consent of Britain.

LONDON, August 12.—France today officially notified Premier Lloyd George that it had recognized the regime of General Wrangel as the de facto government of southern Russia. It was announced by Lloyd George's secretary. This was the first official word received by the government before receiving the communication that Lloyd George had protested to disbelieve the report that France had recognized Wrangel. It was in direct conflict with the agreement reached between the British and French Foreign Secretaries at Highgate.

Lloyd George is confronted with no less than three crises or which the peace of Europe may depend. They are: First, the French Foreign Ministry's misunderstanding of the growth of the French recognition of Wrangel. Second, the threatened general strike in Britain if the government makes a move to recognize the Bolsheviks. Third, the peace of Europe may depend on the French recognition of Wrangel.

The French policy of Philip and Bolshevik delegates at Minsk, which Lloyd George is to determine whether the Reds must be recognized. It is now clear that the cabinet after a long and anxious session, has agreed on a basis of action. The French Foreign Ministry is now in a position to view the French recognition of Wrangel.

PARIS, August 12.—The United States and France have been in communication with the French government to recognize the anti-Bolshevik forces as the de facto government of Russia. The French government is regarded as the only one that will play a game of world politics wherein the common will of the British and French governments will be maintained. ALL ROADS LEAD TO THE BALL GAME HEAR TOMORROW

Baseball lovers in this vicinity are anxiously awaiting tomorrow when the Philipburg and Clearfield teams will meet here to attempt to mail another notch in their season's record. The game at Philipburg is by far the best that is in the Philipburg team and Captain Yoder is quite confident that his team will be able to down the Philipburg warriors on the next try. It has not yet been announced who will do the twirling for either team but no doubt both men will put their best in the box. Clearfield players are hoping that Philipburg will be the pitching choice of Philipburg as at the close of the last game here the two getting together to play ball in line with the boys in the city.

Clearfield fans are very enthusiastic over the game tomorrow and the team is going to end a good season of victories. The major of the time of game up to four and it will enable them to get back home on the evening train.

This afternoon Backville, playing Hicks and Naylor, two new men, will be seen for the first time. No addition will be made to the team for the game tomorrow as the boys showed by a victory yesterday that they can handle the Atlanta rule with out any trouble.

A real upset in the baseball fan box will be the first since another day.

ONE OF LOCK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—One of the most important stock market movements since the close of the war was the rise in the price of the United States Steel stock. The stock rose from 10 1/2 to 11 1/2 in the afternoon session. The rise was due to the fact that the company had announced that it had secured a new contract for the construction of a new steel mill in the West.

hat Premier Millerand of France had not disclosed any intent at the Hythe conference which has just closed. It was well known, however, that the viewpoint of England and France on this point was widely divergent. The premier said that he had had no official knowledge of the action taken by France.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—It developed today that the note sent by the United States to the Italian ambassador and made public last night was in reality a circular note to all the world. It would much rather than a mere declaration of policy on the Russo-Polish situation.

It not only declared that the freedom of Poland must be maintained but it also stated that the world that the original boundaries of the former Russian empire, except in the case of Poland, Lithuania and portions of Armenia must be restored to the Russian people.

It is announced that the United States will not take sides in the dispute between Great Britain and France over Russia. The United States will remain neutral in the matter.

Premier George is surprised. He declared that he had not expected the French government to recognize the anti-Bolshevik forces as the de facto government of Russia.

"Out esteemed contemporary" when used by two Ohio editors carries reservations.

Spring chickens are probably so-called because of the price to which they are able to jump.

WATCH YOUR—TONGUE

School boys and girls who struggle in their grammar lessons with such terrifying enemies at "attributive complement, predicate adjective, anticipatory verb," an dither equally mystifying specimens of grammar terminology will be glad to learn that, according to a recent writer on the subject, "English grammar, at it is now taught, should be dropped entirely from our schools."

Against the formal teaching of grammar as a "thing of laws, rules ordinances, by-laws and exceptions; an unscientific, illogical, inflexible dictum, which forces children to decline nouns in cases which do not exist, to conjugate verbs in tenses, moods and voices which long since have ceased to be, and to make adjectives agree with nouns when agreement is neither necessary nor possible"—against all his emphasizing of the letter and killing of the spirit the writer makes a strong case.

Perhaps the discarding of mental gymnastics would come as a relief to the teacher no less than to the pupil. Almost every teacher who is at all familiar with the speech habits of school children outside of the class room has come to see the futility of the empty drilling and parrot-like reciting of the grammar hour. It is now admitted on all sides that we have in the past over-emphasized parsing and conjugating and that more recent device for the torture of the school child's mind known as diagramming. This is evidenced by the fact that the teaching of grammar as it was practiced 25 or 30 years ago has been supplanted in a large measure by methods less irksome and more fruitful to both teacher and pupil.

We can not afford to be less diligent in our efforts to correct slovenly speech habits and to preserve the purity and effectiveness of a language in which is written so much of the world's best literature, and which is the most widely used tongue in the world. If it is our intention to preserve the English language, and not merely to pad a school curriculum, it should be impressed upon the pupil that cultural and commercial opportunity depends in a great part on one's knowledge of his mother tongue and on a desire to use this knowledge to the best of his ability. Slovenly speech, the pupil should be made to understand, is as likely to bring the user of it into disrepute as is slovenly appearance in the matter of his clothes. To this end the home can greatly assist the school.

ness, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But knowing at home is money and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking a drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says: "It darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one stroke at a time. By morning the faded, faded or streaked appearance of gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance.

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.
